The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2-5 and 18-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Goglio for reasons of record.

Applicant urges that examiner's reasoning in Goglio involves hindsight. This argument has been considered but is not persuasive. In the Background of the Invention Goglio describes the high cost of some of the coffee grinding systems used at the time of the invention. Thus even though a change in a process system would have been obvious, the cost of changing the process would have been prohibitive. But cost does not alone constitute unobviousness. Further the words upon a page cannot capture the fragrant aroma that naturally flows from grinding coffee. To capture the aroma of freshly ground coffee would have been an obvious endeavor for one of ordinary skill in the art that desires to improve the quality of his coffee product. Certainly examiner should be permitted to read the disclosure and imagine the three dimensional process that includes sight, sound and aroma. The fact that Goglio did not disclose the building of a new coffee plant to enhance the quality of the coffee product is not alone seen to constitute unobviousness. It is well known that the taste of freshly ground and brewed coffee is the goal in coffee manufacturer. To design a system to mimic and capture freshly ground coffee aroma would have been the desire of any manufacturer with an unlimited budget.

Claims 7-12 and 14-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Goglio as applied to claims 2-5 and 18-20 above, and further in view of Hibi for reasons of record.

Applicants' arguments are directed to the primary reference and thus no additional arguments are needed herein.

Claim 6 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
